

The international finance and strategy consulting firm Accuracy is expanding its teams and expertise in France with the arrival of Sophie Chassat to head "SUSTAIN by Accuracy".

10 October 2023 – Sophie Chassat recently joined Accuracy as senior VP to strengthen the team dedicated to sustainability issues and launch "SUSTAIN by Accuracy".

In the context of a "new frontier" where financial and non-financial issues are converging exponentially, "SUSTAIN by Accuracy" aims to integrate ESG (Environment, Social, Governance) issues into all the situations in which Accuracy offers its services.

A graduate of the Ecole Normale Supérieure with a degree in philosophy, Sophie has 15 years' professional experience in strategic consulting and sits on several boards (LVMH Group, Le Coq Sportif), making her a seasoned expert in issues linked to purpose, impact and ESG challenges.

Sophie has carried out numerous projects in this field, from the definition of corporate purpose to the strategic and operational translation of these visions. Her expertise enables her to master the technical issues linked to the most recent ESG regulations and to support the resulting evolution of strategies and business models.

In terms of "ESG Regulations & Transformation", Sophie helps companies to adopt current sustainability standards, such as the CSRD, IFRS S, SFDR and others. She ensures that these reporting obligations are activated as strategic assets and the keys to overall performance, that is economic, environmental and social.

As for "Purpose & Strategy" issues, Sophie works with managers and their teams to define and deploy strategic visions that include sustainability issues. In a context where ESG-related obligations are multiplying, clarifying a clear strategic course enables companies to differentiate themselves and maximise their societal impact as well as their development prospects.

"With the arrival of Sophie Chassat and the 'SUSTAIN by Accuracy' project, we are accelerating the integration of sustainability issues at the heart of our services and our daily culture." Frédéric Duponchel
