

Accuracy extends its partnership with the nomination of ten partners and a principal

Paris, 11 January 2024

Accuracy, the international independent advisory firm, has promoted ten of its directors to partners and one director to principal, continuing its international growth since its creation in 2004. This brings the total number of Accuracy partners to 72, spread across 13 countries.

Frédéric Duponchel, chairperson of Accuracy, says: “We are proud to promote ten new Partners and a new Principal to start the year 2024. With very complementary profiles, they bring strong expertise to Accuracy, adding even more value for our clients. Our new Partners and Principal champion our DNA and values. These promotions reflect our team-building spirit – a pillar of the growth and development of our firm for almost 20 years.”

Bas Dantuma

Bas has a corporate finance background, with more than fifteen years of consulting experience. He specialises in transactions for both corporate and private equity clients and is known for his pragmatic and constructive approach and concise reporting, as well as for always remaining accessible to all parties involved in a process. Prior to joining Accuracy in 2017, Bas worked for the French subsidiary of a Dutch family-owned multinational and in the financial services team (serving mainly banking and insurance clients) and private equity transaction services team of a Big Four firm in Amsterdam. In addition to his work in the Netherlands, Bas gained extensive international experience during multiple engagements with the Paris and London offices, among others.

Alberto Fernández Revenga

Alberto boasts over 15 years of professional experience in financial advisory services. He joined Accuracy in 2010, following an extensive background in financial audit with a Big Four firm. Alberto has served as an economic expert in various legal contexts, including investment arbitration cases (ICSID, CPA), commercial arbitration cases (ICC, ad hoc) and diverse litigation cases before the Spanish courts. His international arbitration and litigation portfolio is extensive, spanning more than 50 cases across industries such as renewable energies, telecoms, retail, banking, infrastructure and construction in various geographies (Europe, America and Africa). In addition to his role as an economic expert in arbitration and litigation, Alberto provides guidance to corporates and private equity firms on matters related to transfer pricing, as well as on handling tax-related disputes. His extensive expertise has earned him recognition as a Future Leader by Lexology Who's Who Legal (WWL) in the categories of Arbitration and Financial Advisory and Valuation – Quantum of Damages.

Jérémie Israel

Jérémie graduated from ESSEC (2011), with a major in corporate finance and a diploma from the renowned Media & Entertainment chair. After graduating, Jeremie worked at M6 in the finance department, before joining Accuracy in 2013, where he has mostly been involved in transactions and corporate valuations. Jérémie has extensive experience in the media & entertainment sector where he has worked for many corporates (TV, SVoD, audiovisual content producer and distributors, etc.). He has also worked on several large transactions and corporate finance engagements for corporates and private equity funds in the hospitality, green energy production, real estate and retail sectors with proven expertise in financial due diligence, valuation and business performance engagements.

Marie Madelpuech

For the past 12 years at Accuracy, Marie has been assisting corporates and private equity funds with their transaction-related challenges, including financial due diligence, carve-outs, business plan preparation, valuations and refinancing support. She has also been advising large corporates through complex transformation projects. Marie has provided strategic advice to numerous clients across diverse sectors, such as IT services, construction, real estate, industry and waste management. In addition, she has developed particular expertise in the luxury sector, where she supports clients in their strategic and financial projects. Marie graduated from ESCP Europe (2011) with a specialisation in Finance and Strategy, and she also holds a bachelor's degree in business law from Sorbonne University. Since 2018, she has been teaching corporate finance at ESCP Europe.

Cyril Mathey

Cyril Mathey began his collaboration with Accuracy in 2013 and has over 25 years of experience in enterprise software development. He started his career at ILOG, a French start-up, one of the first to be listed on NASDAQ and a leading global provider in the fields of visualisation components, optimisation libraries and business rule management systems. After IBM's acquisition of ILOG in 2009, Cyril became one of the key technical leaders for Operational Decision Manager, a rule-based decision support software system used by many Fortune 200 companies to automate and improve their decision-making. Throughout his career, Cyril's roles and contributions have covered the entire life cycle of modern software engineering processes. At Accuracy, he oversees the creation of innovative, high-quality and business-focused digital solutions carried out by a highly skilled team of developers.

Simon Perez

Simon's professional experience spans multiple years: he joined Accuracy in 2013, before which he gained experience in private equity at Equistone and in audit in a Big 4 firm.

He specialises in both restructuring and transaction advisory services and has led dozens of engagements in these fields for Accuracy.

Simon also spent almost two years in Hong Kong where he participated in the creation and development of the Accuracy office there.

Giulia Polacchi

Giulia has been with Accuracy since 2009, bringing extensive professional experience.

She specialises in transaction advisory services, having led 100+ engagements so far, most of which in an international context. Her expertise covers acquisitions, disposals, carve-outs, BP preparation, synergy quantification and valuations both for corporates and private equity firms. She also has experience in restructuring engagements, in the assessment of damages for litigation cases and in fraud and forensic investigations. Giulia has provided strategic advice to clients across various sectors including fashion & luxury, manufacturing, automotive, energy, retail, IT / software, aerospace and media. In addition to her native Italian, she also speaks fluent English and French as well as some Spanish.

Guillaume Rosaz

Guillaume provides expert advice on large capital projects worldwide. Since 2009, he has supported owners, contractors, subcontractors and manufacturers on multiple international megaprojects in America, Europe, Africa, the Middle East and Asia. He is an industrial engineer with a background in project control and is an experienced construction management professional, having worked for an oil and gas contractor before joining Accuracy in 2016. Guillaume works in a variety of sectors, including infrastructure, energy, chemicals, transport and various manufacturing industries.

Guillaume Roux

Guillaume joined Accuracy in 2011 in Paris before transferring to the Montreal office in 2017. Over the past few years, Guillaume has carried out numerous financial and strategic advisory engagements in transactional contexts (e.g. buy-side and sell-side due diligence, financial assessments) on behalf of large companies and investment funds.

He also assists Accuracy's clients with their financial, operational and strategic optimisation and transformation issues (business plan reviews and modelling, working capital optimisation, KPI reviews and implementation, synergy assessments and monitoring, etc.) in various sectors.

Margaux de Saint-Exupery

Margaux has more than ten years of professional experience and has been with the firm since 2013. Margaux's primary expertise is in valuation, in both corporate strategy matters and in dispute contexts. She supports management and boards of directors in making critical strategic and financial decisions on their portfolio of activities, capital allocation and options for development through valuation analyses. She also has extensive experience in the assessment of damages for litigation cases in various jurisdictions, including French courts and international courts of arbitration.

Philippe Wüst

Philippe joined the firm in 2014 after gaining experience in quantitative finance with Deloitte's Risk Services for three years. He has worked on market risk modelling and counterparty risk (in particular, CVA/DVA) for banking clients such as CACIB and BNPP. He has also worked extensively on ALM topics regarding interest margin projections in the context of internal and regulatory stress test exercises.

He has designed financial and strategic planning tools for all the business lines of two major international banks (P&L, balance sheet, credit risk, profitability, and liquidity indicators). He also builds strategic business plans for institutions in litigation or due diligence contexts.
